WIN A 'COLOUR ME MINE' HAIR AND MAKE UP MAKEOVER AT DANIEL HERSHESHON'S KNIGHTSBRIDGE SALON, IN HARVEY NICHOLS, WORTH £300

Just imagine having the Head Colourist at Daniel Hersheshon's Harvey Nichols salon (Sibi Bolan) create a new hair colour especially for you. Add in a cut and blow dry, and then – as if that wasn't enough of a treat - a make up lesson from Lauren Hersheshon, one of the nicest and most talented make up artists we've had the pleasure of meeting. That's our fabulous prize for one lucky 'Beauty Bible insider' for January.

'Colour Me Mine', as it's called, is a new and, we're told, unique service offered by Daniel Hersheshon's salon. Getting gorgeous hair colour is one thing but often you really need to tweak your cosmetics for the best effect. That's where Lauren comes in. Not only does she have an amazing eye for colour, you won't end up feeling as if you have that old-fashioned mask look: you just look like yourself, only prettier.

When Sarah had her face made up by Lauren recently, she was completely delighted by the subtle fresh look, with perfect skin – courtesy of Armani Master Primer and Designer Cream Foundation, plus Corrector No. 3 to tone down her country flush – and the most fabulous brows, thanks to Chanel Le Sourcil Perfect Brow Kit. And throughout the session, Lauren provides little tips and tricks for giving an expert gloss to your look. For the rest of Sarah's day, the compliments came rolling in – which is always delightful, even for a beauty editor...

Starting with a joint consultation with Sibi and Lauren, the whole process will take about five hours. The prize consists of colour, cut, blow-dry and make up, (NB the cut and blow-dry is an addition to the usual Colour Me Mine service), and Lauren will also accompany the winner to the beauty hall afterwards to choose key products to purchase if they wish. (NB The prize doesn't include any travel or incidental expenses, so you'll need to get yourself to Harvey Nix.)

For a chance of winning this Cinderella experience, fill in the form below. And if you simply can't wait to be transformed, contact the Daniel Hersheshon salon, 4th Floor, Harvey Nichols, London SW1X 7RJ/tel. 020 7201 8797...
