

The 'Croydon facelift' returns at Olivia Rubin...

Slicked-back, stretched-taut ponytails on the top of the head - it can only be the 'Croydon facelift'... and that was exactly the inspiration for the look at today's Olivia Rubin show. To contrast the heavily printed and tessellated designs of Olivia's collection, stylist Luke Hersheson kept things simple with a modern pony that had a bit of a swing - and that trademark facelift effect. Lauren Hersheson's make-up focused on keeping the cheeks razor-sharp using MAC Fabulush Cream Colour using sticky tape applied to the face to keep the line of the blusher dead straight, and nails remained nude in MAC's 'Pretty Miss'. See more pictures below, and check out the full show report here.

Sign up to Grazia's
fashion newsletter

GRAZIA
Fashion as it happens

MOST POPULAR

MOST COMMENTED

The most popular articles on Grazia Daily are:

1. Oscars 2009: You, The Fashion Jury
2. Best dressed from the BRITs!
3. Oscar: 'I've got a good feeling' - Jennifer Lopez
4. PPQ's Parisian Moment
5. Cheryl Cole: Our new style crush!
6. Backstage at Luella: Individuality rules all the way!
7. Luella's military school kids stomp down the LFWc
8. Style Hunter hits London Fashion Week!
9. Rate this weekend's 10 best dressed
10. Backstage at Topshop Unique!

SEARCH

Subscribe to RSS feed.

Sign up to Grazia's
fashion newsletter

GRAZIA
Fashion as it happens