The top three: make-up artists

- 1 Jacqueline O'Flynn at the Bobbi Brown counter at Fenwick is a make-up fairy godmother. Not only is she a cosy confidante, she also transforms you from scullery maid to princess. Using a huge chest of Bobbi Brown's sophisticated colours and warm tones, she lifted my look, slimming my face and eradicating blemishes. Make-up applications are complimentary, 63 New Bond Street, W1 (0870 192 5571).
- 2 From her base in her father's salon in Harvey Nichols, Lauren Hersheshon sends out a stream of Kensington ladies to their lunches looking immaculate but with such a subtle touch it's hard to tell what's changed. Make-up session, from £75; make-up lesson, from £150. Daniel Hersheshon, Fourth Floor, Harvey Nichols, SW1 (020 7201 8797).
- 3 Hiro Miyoshi at Nyumba has endless tools and tricks to make you look polished and pretty. Save time for an elegant updo with salon owner Michael Charalambous afterwards. Make-up from £125; two-hour make-up lesson, £250; express application, £65. 6-7 Mount Street, W1 (020 7408 1489).
