ABOUT

Lauren Hersheson is no ordinary make-up artist. A true creative and expert in her field, she completely and utterly understands all there is to know about beauty. For that very reason her work graces the pages of the most elite publications such as Vogue, as well as the faces of royalty, socialites and beauty aficionados alike (all of whom refuse to go elsewhere).

The key to her success is her incredible talent for enhancing natural beauty. As Lauren considers make-up to be more of a secret weapon than war paint, she helps women to look like the most beautiful version of themselves but in the most natural looking way.

That said, she also does one of the best smokey eye looks we've ever tried but then that's precisely why we adore her - whatever our beauty needs, we always leave with a big smile on a beautiful face.

Find her at Daniel Hersheson, 4th floor at Harvey Nichols, 109-125 Knightsbridge, London, SW1X 7RJ (020 7201 8797)

Prices £80 for a make-up session, £160 for a make-up lesson and £110 for a bridal trial.
